Ikeda Gets Solid Win In Japan

Tokyo (Monday) (UPI) — Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's pro-U.S. conservatives won a solid election victory today but fell short of the smashing margin they had hoped to roll up over the leftwing opposition in parliament.

Nearly complete returns from voting by 39,951,119 Japanese showed the two socialist parties and the communists together won more than one-third of the 467 seats in the ruling house of representatives.

This means the leftist parties could continue to block long range conservative plans to rewrite the Japanese constitution to strengthen the Japanese military forces, police and emperor.

The leftwing parties led the tumultuous but unsuccessful campaign against the new U.S.-Japan security pact last spring.

With unofficial returns in from all but 16 of 118 electoral districts, Ikeda's Liberal Democrats had elected 281 members of the house and could not reach the 312-seat two-thirds margin they set as a goal. The Socialists had won 140, the Democratic Socialists 14 and the Communists 3, exceeding the one-third margin of 154.

Chester Firm Produces Top Herefords

By Glenn Kreuscher

Farm Editor

A clean sweep of all the trophies at the 20th anniversary sale of the Midwest Polled Hereford Assn. at Deshler, Nebraska was realized by the firm of John Sell & Son of Chester.

The Sells, who have brought top breeding stock to their farm from leading herds and were responsible for one of the best breeder auctions in Nebraska during 1959, made the first sweep of championship winnings in the 20 sale history of this association with members from 5 states.

Versatile

In addition to winning Polled Herefords, the Sells have the drug store in Chester which occupies most of John Sell's time, while son Jack is the cowman, spending full time with the herd on the Sell farm one mile west of Chester.

Each spring this firm holds a 4-H and FFA judging field day at the farm for the boys and girls living in Nebraska and Kansas, since their farm is one mile from the Kansas-Nebraska state line.

Purchasers

In the sale that followed the show at the Midwest Polled Hereford event 3 of the champions were purchased by Anderson & Anders of Superior, while the reserve champion bull sold to Fred Sukovaty of Plymouth.

Fred Duey of Chester who has managed the event through the 20 show-sale stretch announced his resignation as sale manager following this year's event.

"It is time to take it easy," said Duey, whose friends doubt very much if he can keep from taking an active hand in livestock events in a neighborhood that has produced some of the states best Polled Herefords.

Filibuster Rule May Draw Fire Before Change

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., predicted that a bipartisan attempt will be made to change the filibuster rule while Vice President Richard M. Nixon still presides over the Senate.

Nixon will preside until next Jan. 20, when he will be succeeded by the Democratic vice president, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Keating said that in the past Nixon has ruled that a majority vote can change Senate regulations at the beginning of a new Congress. He said that Johnson believes a two-thirds vote is required.

Stronger Powers

Bangui, Central African Republic (UPI) — The National Assembly has approved 37-13, a constitutional amendment to enhance the executive powers. Previously President David Dacko was answerable to the Assembly and thus was reduced somewhat to the role of premier rather than being empowered as chief of state.

Police Search For Arsonists In Two Cases

The search continued Sunday for youthful arsonists who police believe are connected with setting two fires and reporting another nonexistent blaze.

Detective Lt. Merl Hesser said two Lincoln teen-age boys—one 19, one 18—were questioned late Saturday but were released because they could not be connected with the fires.

Friday evening at Colter and X, "two unknown parties" were reported seen around Dobson Bros. Construction Co. equipment being used to rebuild a bridge over Dead Man's Run.

Police said 5 or 6 flares were placed under wooden stands holding two 50-gallon kerosene drums. Firemen arrived in time to extinguish the blaze before it reached the kerosene, averting an explosion.

Early Saturday, flames consumed an unused shed at the rear of a vacant lot near 59th and South. A witness told firemen and police he had seen two teenagers run from the area and drive away just before the blaze broke out.

Three minutes after the 59th and South alarm was sounded, firemen raced to a reported grass fire at 54th and Newton.

Firefighters reported, however, they "couldn't find anything" near the intersection which would be in the middle of empty grounds adjacent to Madonna Home property.

Red Boats Seen

Svolvaer, Norway (UPI)—Norwegian fishermen returning from the Barents Sea said a great many Soviet submarines, destroyers and torpedo boats were observed in maneuvering there at the end of October and beginning of November.

Accra, Ghana (UPI)—President Kwame Nkrumah said that his government was working toward creation of a classless society where "there will be no rich and no poor."

"All will enjoy the country's wealth," he added.

CAP Seeks Small Plane, Four Aboard

Des Moines (UPI)—A 3-state search was launched by the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) Sunday night for a Reno, Nev., pilot and his 3 passengers last heard from at 4:10 p.m. when they left the Waterloo, Iowa, airport.

CAP officials here said it was believed D. E. Thompson was bound for an Illinois town but no flight plan or destination report had been found. The 3 passengers were not identified.

He took off from Omaha at 2 p.m. and landed briefly at Waterloo before heading east in a Cessna 210 bearing license N-7434-E, CAP officials said.

Authorities said control towers at Dubuque, Iowa, Chicago and Rockford, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis., had been contacted but had received no reports of the plane.

The primary control of the air search was centered here and Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin CAP units were alerted to fly the mission, CAP officers said.

The air search will start at daybreak Monday. Meantime, CAP officers were enlisting the aid of local and state police in a ground search and checking airports and landing strips.

CAP officials said Thompson filed a flight plan at Omaha listing Des Moines as his next stop but he flew to Waterloo instead. He did not refuel at Waterloo and reportedly had enough fuel for 4 hours flying time when he left Omaha.

That would be enough to carry him into the Chicago area, CAP officers said.

Wreckage Gone

Jakarta, Indonesia (UPI)—A 3-month project to clear Jakarta's Tanjung Priok harbor of World War II ship wreckage has been completed, it was announced.

Wheat Men Warned Of New Product

A new product containing sodium metabisulfite which has recently come on the market is causing much concern among flour millers and members of the grain trade, a University of Nebraska specialist said.

Duane Foote, secretary of the Nebraska Grain Improvement Association, said the product is designed to control mold growth in high-moisture corn and grain sorghum being stored for feed.

Although it is not sold for use with wheat, it is feared that the product might be used by farmers or elevators operators to treat new-crop wheat with this chemical storage aid, Foote explained.

"Products containing sodium metabisulfite have shown drastic effects on wheat gluten quality," he continued. "Peak time or mixing time has been cut 3 or 4 minutes, mixing tolerance index, which measures drop-off of dough consistency or stiffness during mixing, was altered drastically from normal to almost no doughlike consistency," he said.

Use of sodium metabisulfite on grain which will be used for seed or wheat entering market channels should be avoided, Foote stressed.

The chemical releases sulfur dioxide, and it is reported that 4 to 6 weeks may be required before the characteristic pungent odor leaves the treated grain, the expert said.

CAP officials said Thompson filed a flight plan at Omaha listing Des Moines as his next stop but he flew to Waterloo instead. He did not refuel at Waterloo and reportedly had enough fuel for 4 hours flying time when he left Omaha.

That would be enough to carry him into the Chicago area, CAP officers said.

Europeans Leave

Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia (UPI)—More and more Europeans are emigrating from the Federation of the Rhodesias and Nyasaland and the figure for the month of August—662—was the highest since the Central African Statistical Department began keeping records. Up to the end of August a total of 3,998 Europeans had left the federation for good since the beginning of this year.

A Grade A milk law, that will stand the test of any future challenge is being prepared by dairymen for introduction at the 1961 session of the Legislature, according to Buck Grant, manager of the Nebraska-Iowa Cooperative Milk Assn.

Nebraska is the only state in the midwest that presently is without a Grade A Milk law, according to dairy authorities.

Representatives of the Nebraska-Iowa Cooperative Assn. have asked their members to urge emergency passage of this bill which they term, "most important."

What sounds like a real good time is being planned by 41 Dawson County feeders who plan to leave Friday for a week in Chicago at the International Livestock Show.

The group will leave Lexington in a private railway car with Harold Stevens, county extension agent, in charge of the tour.

While in the "windy city" the Nebraskans will visit Union Stock Yards, the International Livestock Show, a Kosher slaughter house, the cariot flat show and round out their trip with a Chicago Bears professional football game and a tour of Chinatown and Chicago by night.

If the steers on feed keep gaining 2½ lbs. per day at home this should be a top-notch trip and one that many other groups will envy.

Increased confidence in the stocker and feeder market has spurred a strong to higher market for cattle throughout the midwest in recent weeks, according to a survey conducted by the Omaha Daily Journal Stockman.

The survey showed stock cattle still wanted to utilize record-sized hay and feed supplies in central S. Dakota, central Nebraska and central Kansas.

Demand for cattle remained strong in southwest Kansas and areas of Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle where excellent wheat pasture and milo stubblefields are not yet fully stocked, the survey showed.

The Growers are now organized in 18 counties.

Smaller meals more often have provided better lamb gains in tests at Cornell University.

Talking about sheep—Dec. 10 has been set as the date for the annual Sheep Health Clinic and Ewe Sale at the College of Agriculture.

Ted Doane, Extension animal husbandman, has announced that state, federal and college authorities will discuss animal health and veterinary medicine in a morning clinic with the annual bred ewe sale sponsored by Nebraska's registered sheep breeders to be held in the afternoon.

Raul Castro Calls U.S. Act 'Stupid'

Havana (UPI)—Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro said Sunday President Eisenhower's dispatch of U.S. warships to the Caribbean in response to requests by Guatemala and Nicaragua represents "a warning by Yankee imperialism to all the peoples of Latin America that it is not going to permit Cuban-style revolutions."

Witnesses said smoke and flying parts erupted from the racer halfway through a run along a straight section of track. The car bounced off a ditch separating the "racing" strip from the "return" at the Louisa dragway and came down on a fence and two other cars. Spectators scrambled to get out of the way.

"It happened so fast I didn't realize what happened until I got up," said Edward Price Perry, 18, of Charlottesville, Va., another racer. The driver of the car, Henry Southworth, of Richmond, was not injured.

Perry said he was sitting on the fender of his car when he saw the racer coming toward him.

"The next thing I knew was that people were hurt and that they were being taken care of," he said.

The injured were taken to a hospital in nearby Charlottesville. Four were hospitalized with broken legs or lacerations and two others were treated and released.

Hot Rod Flies Into Crowd At Va. Drag Races

Louisa, Va. (UPI)—A hot rod racing car hurtled into a crowd when its clutch exploded during a drag race Sunday, sending 6 spectators to the hospital.

Webb's Charge Draws Denials

... Bridge Controversy

North Platte (AP) — Charges by a state senator that pumping fill for bridge construction over the Platte River would be too expensive have brought quick denials from several sources.

St. Sen. Lewis Webb of Ogallala had said in Lincoln that the state "ought to be building highways, instead of mosquito ponds."

He cited pumping fill for a bridge east of North Platte as an example of what he termed the prohibitory expense of the proposed Platte Valley Parkway.

Newly-elected State Senator Cecil Craft of North Platte disagreed.

He said in North Platte that the state must provide a source of material and that if areas along the Platte that have been pumped are not used for lakes, the state would have the problem of disposing of them later.

District Engineer Harold Eason, also of North Platte, said Webb's figures were correct. But he said that sand and gravel are preferable to dirt for roadbed construction.

Meanwhile, Acting State Engineer John Hossack entered the controversy.

He said in addition to being more suitable for engineering purposes, pumping sand and gravel from the Platt River might be cheaper than excavating dirt.

Hossack add it may be cheaper to buy land for deep borrow pits than to purchase larger tracts for common excavation.

Webb is a former Department of Roads supervisor.

The chain of lakes proposal has been boosted by Game Commission Director M. O. Steen.

His argument has been that since it is necessary to excavate for fill anyway, why not create lakes as the Interstate Highway goes into the Platte Valley area.

Donald Kline, Chicago educational researcher and former executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education Association, was principal speaker at the dedication.

Kline said Brooks always held the individual in high esteem and added that the educational system of this country is based on the same theory, with the individual being the key to the system.

While the Russian system claims to produce more scientists, he said, there will lack ingenuity and imagination of the educated America, since the Russian attempts mass cultivation of the mind.

Gov. Dwight Burney was a guest at the dedication.

The dormitory, which will house 60 students, has dining facilities and includes two lounges.

For Most Part, Smaller Towns Failed To Grow

Omaha (P) — Nebraska's small towns for the most part failed to hold their own in the years between the 1950 census and that of 1960.

New census figures indicate that towns in the 500 to 1000 population grouping generally lost population while the state's total rose. Of 90 communities in this bracket, 35 showed gains while 54 had losses.

On an average, 11.84 persons were lost in each town.

Milford showed the biggest increase of the gainers. Republican City and Orleans showed the greatest drops.

Neligh Senior Wins 3rd District Contest

Norfolk (P) — The 3rd congressional district division winner in the national Voice of Democracy contest, is Lynn Schrader, 16-year-old senior in Neligh high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schrader.

As winner in the contest she will be presented a $50 savings bond, and a plaque, and will represent the district in the state contest to be held in December.

Industrial Site May Be Complete By End Of Year

Beatrice (P) — Beatrice industrial boosters are hoping to have an industrial tract completed by the end of this year.

Beatrice Development President Stanley Woita said bids on a dirt-moving project for the site will be let by Dec. 5.

The 24.7-acre site is plotted into 4 separate tracts ranging in size from one and a half acres to more than 10 acres.

New Plan Would Double Costs Of Pension Plan

Omaha (P) — If the Omaha City Council adopts the pension program now under consideration, the city's annual outlay for the program will more than double.

A check of figures compiled by the consulting firm of Haight, Davis and Haight indicates the cost would go to $1,186,000.

To find ways to close the gap between funds available and the cost of the proposed program, Finance Director Edwin J. Hewitt and Council Administrative Assistant Arthur D. Bradley will offer the council a long list of possibilities.

Omaha Cops Continue Operation Get Tough

Omaha (P) — Omaha police have handed out their 500th traffic summons since a crackdown that began Wednesday night.

The city's charter requires that pension plans be reviewed every 5 years by an actuary.

The "get tough" move was prompted by a drag racing accident a week ago that had followed not long after an Elmwood crash smashup that claimed 6 lives.

Apply Rabbit Repellent Now

Grand Island — Rabbit repellent should be applied to tree plantings now if they are to be protected this winter, according to Joe Range, District Extension forester stationed here.

"Last year rabbit damage was severe in many plantings," Range said.

The chewing and gnawing by rabbits greatly reduced the growth of trees.

Several Available

Several products are available for use in protecting trees from rabbits, Range said.

The most effective seem to be those containing thiram, he continued. These include Asaran 42-S and SFM and Penco animal repellent.

Other effective products are Z. I. P. and Ringwood repellent.

These, however, have been reported to be somewhat injurious to evergreen species, the Extension specialist cautioned.

These repellents can be applied either by brushing on the tree or as a spray application.

The material should completely cover small trees and on larger trees, the bark should be treated to a height that rabbits might reach during periods of heaviest snow, Range advised.

First And The Last

WILLIAM O. DOBLER

If everything that was first was suddenly reversed and came last and everything that was last suddenly became first, the world would be a terribly mixed up place in which to live. The entire social status of the robin world would be upset, for instance. Now, all honor is given the first robin to show up in the spring. People who want to get technical and argue about whether all the robins ever leave should stay out of this discussion.

We want to assume that they all leave so there can be some distinction for the first fellow back in the spring. This is the fellow who gets his picture in the paper, poetry written in his honor and credit for the smile on everybody's face. This is all right but he may be getting more credit than he deserves. After all, he is just coming back to a pretty fine time of year and a life of easy pickings. The vegetation he relies upon for subsistence is just beginning to come forth in all its abundance. He gets first crack at the best nesting places, too. But what about his counterpart—the robin who is last to leave in the fall? Here is a hardy fellow who obviously comes from strong and stout stock but who gets no credit for anything.

He sticks around through the chilly nights of fall and early winter and has to eke out a living at a time when everything is turning brown and the worms have gone to great depths because of a dry spell. He is just as colorful as any of his friends ever are but nobody appreciates his being around. And on top of it all, he has to make a lonely trip south because his friends have all long since left for greener pastures.

And when he gets to wherever it is they go, he finds that everyone else has already set up for the season, leaving him little choice in things. We should reverse things and give our honor to the last robin to leave in early winter, not the first to show up in the spring. This is just a sample of the mixed up manner in which we go about things.

Eating is another place where we often make a mistake. Every family starts out the meal with the staple items first on the menu—meat, potatoes and a vegetable. Only after that course is completed does the dessert take its place. Yet, the dessert is often the highlight of the meal, particularly if a not-too-good job has been done on the preparation of the main course. Why wouldn't it be a good idea to start with dessert and end up with the meat and potatoes? One thing for sure, all the children would give 100 per cent support to the idea.

Counsel Of Restraint

California did more than vote for president last election day.

The voters pledged themselves to an outlay of $1.75 billion for water. They gave consent to bond issues which will finance dams, aqueducts and other installations for flood control and irrigation which will link wet northern California with arid southern California—a system more than 500 miles in length.

The Christian Science Monitor says of the project:

"Nothing so tremendous in the way of water moving over a vast area to serve so many people has ever been undertaken anywhere before."

Such gigantic thinking alone is sufficient to strike wonder and admiration. But equally impressive is the capacity of the

Matter Of Choice

In the coming session of the Legislature, there will be no choice as to the redistricting of the state for seats in the House of Representatives in Washington. By virtue of a federal division of these seats on a population basis, Nebraska will lose a place in the House. But the Legislature does have a choice in another area of redistricting. It can determine the representation of its own members and while a change here is as warranted as it is on the federal level, it still may never get done.

The official census results for the state and the last election returns again show the injustice of the present division of state legislative districts. In 1950, Lincoln's population of 98,844 represents slightly less than 7.5 per cent of the state's total population. But in 1960, Lincoln's total of 128,521 people represents slightly more than 9.1 per cent of the state figure. Yet, Lincoln still has the same number of representatives in the Legislature as it had when the present unicameral was set up in 1933.

Preliminary 1960 census figures were used by Clerk of the Legislature Hugo Srb to show the average population of the state's

Minnesotans Here To Urge 6-State Educational TV Network

By Nancy Ray

Two active proponents of a 6-state educational television network have landed in Lincoln and are preparing to preach their doctrine to educational and governmental officials — and anybody else who is interested.

Dr. John Schwarzwalden, general manager of the St. Paul-Minneapolis ETV station, and W. D. (Chris) Donaldson, assistant general manager and program director of the station, have set their sights on gaining local cooperation of lawmakers and educators in their master project.

Both men are top officials in a survey of the feasibility of setting up an ETV network which would serve Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin — a network which would take the cream of programming from the 6 ETV stations now operating in the area (and many more planned) and serve it up to the whole area.

'Workable'

"We have already arrived at the conclusion that such a network is workable — and that the equipment needed is available — and arrived at a cost figure," Schwarzwalden said.

The cost: $2 million for a partial micro-wave relay hookup between presently operating stations serving the area, including $191,000 for the relay in Nebraska.

The two Minnesota men and Jack McBride, general manager of the University of Nebraska's KUON-TV, will meet with officials including NU Chancellor Clifford Hardin, Lincoln Schools Superintendent Steven Watkins, State Education Commissioner Freeman Decker, and State Sen. Richard Marvel and another educational surveyor Dr. Lyman Glenny in the missionary work to promote ETV.

Survey Sought

First objective of the men is a preliminary survey of the state, to determine the need and the interest in educational TV in public, private, and parochial schools, the state's colleges and universities, and other special groups interested in education in some form.

Lacked Opportunity

"Educators have been a little bit slow in recognizing the potential of educational television," Schwarzwalden admits, "but they have never had the opportunity to utilize it that is now possible."

This opportunity the Minnesotans talk of includes the use of daily TV programs on Spanish instruction for grade school youngsters by a top teacher by one-room rural schools and metropolitan schools alike throughout the region; programs on veterinary medicine equally available to all who require them; symphony orchestras and top names in the fine arts brought into the classroom, and a myriad of other possibilities.

What would be impossible for a single area to afford to sponsor, becomes very reasonable in cost when spread over a larger area and divided among many more listeners, the ETV proponents explain.

The proposed ETV network, Schwarzwalden stresses, "is capable of raising the quality while actually lowering the cost."

a point south of Wahoo which would give the NU station coverage of 65% of Nebraska's population including Omaha, and eventual step-up of the station to full power.

Also needed to a statewide ETV coverage would be additional ETV stations at two other Nebraska communities, and perhaps more.

Hopes for promoting the ETV network are increased by the possibility that the next Congress will pass on a bill to offer subsidies or matching funds for any such project.

"But whatever is to be done must first be determined," Schwarzwalden concluded, "and Nebraska needs a study made to spell it out."

Their objective has already received local support, unsolicited, from outlying communities and colleges, but, they stress, the time for action is now.

A prime prerequisite for the interlocking ETV network is control of TV channels which cover the vast majority of the population areas in the 6-state region. These channels are also becoming sought after by commercial interests, which makes the time factor important.

KUON-TV Change Seen

Future plans for ETV in Nebraska include moving of the KUON-TV transmitter to a point south of Wahoo which would give the NU station coverage of 65% of Nebraska's population including Omaha, and eventual step-up of the station to full power.

Also needed to a statewide ETV coverage would be additional ETV stations at two other Nebraska communities, and perhaps more.

Hopes for promoting the ETV network are increased by the possibility that the next Congress will pass on a bill to offer subsidies or matching funds for any such project.

"But whatever is to be done must first be determined," Schwarzwalden concluded, "and Nebraska needs a study made to spell it out."

Their objective has already received local support, unsolicited, from outlying communities and colleges, but, they stress, the time for action is now.

Jehovah's Witness Refuses Blood; Legal Maneuver May Save His Life

Atlanta (UPI) — A Jehovah's Witness, ruled mentally incompetent in an effort to save his life, remained in critical condition Sunday as doctors pumped blood back into his blood-starved body.

Pastor Says Puerto Rico Mayor Should Do Penance

San Juan, Puerto Rico (UPI) — The Rev. Thomas Maisonet, pastor of San Juan's Roman Catholic Cathedral, said San Juan's woman mayor will be expected to do penance publicly through the radio, television or the newspapers before she can receive communion.

The mayor, Felisa Rincon de Gauthier did not appear at any of the 5 masses at the cathedral.

Father Maisonet told worshippers at those services that those who sinned by voting for Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's Popular Democratic Party Nov. 8 would be punished.

Dona Felisa — a member of the Popular Democratic Party — was reported to have received communion at Vega Baja, where she was spending the weekend at her beach cottage.

The mayor had said earlier she planned to attend mass at the cathedral and receive communion without confessing her vote for Munoz. A letter signed by Msgr.

First-Plymouth Extends Call To California Pastor

The congregation of the First-Plymouth Congregational Church in Lincoln has extended a call to the Rev. Philip E. Gregory of Laguna Beach, Calif., to act as its interim minister from Jan. 1, 1961 until at least Easter, April 2.

The Rev. Mr. Gregory will be replacing Dr. George Frantz, who has acted in this position since September of this year, according to Mrs. Selden Dickinson, wife of the minister in charge, Rev. S. C. Dickinson. Mrs. Dickinson added that the Rev. Mr. Frantz is answering a commitment in California.

The decision to send out the call to the Rev. Mr. Gregory was made at a meeting of the congregation following the 11 a.m. worship service Sun-

Hogan's father-in-law, B. E. Langley of East Point, Ga., sided with the doctors. He went into superior court here seeking a ruling that would permit going ahead with the blood transfusions without permission from the Hogans. Judge Ralph Pharr declined, saying he was powerless in the matter.

Then, Langley and the doctors at Crawford Long Hospital here tried a different approach. Langley petitioned the Fulton County (Atlanta) Court of Ordinary to declare Hogan mentally incompetent and asked that he be named Hogan's guardian.

Grants Permission

A hastily-assembled lunacy commission granted the petition and Langley told doctors to go ahead with the transfusions.

Doctors testifying at the lunacy hearing said the severe loss of blood had caused severe injury to Hogan's brain. But Hogan's wife insisting that neither she nor her husband wanted the transfusions — even if it meant his death.

However, Mrs. Hogan said that if the transfusions were given against their wishes then whoever was responsible for ordering them would have to answer for it to God.

One doctor, asking not to be identified, told United Press International that Hogan still is "in grave danger" and will have to battle great odds to recover. "The blood transfusions are increasing his chances," he said, "but by going without the needed blood for nearly a week, he has incurred serious damage to tissues and organs that need blood to survive."

By noon Sunday, Hogan had received two transfusions of about 1½ quarts of blood each. A spokesman reported his blood was back up to about 40% and that he appeared to be growing stronger. A total of 12 transfusions are expected to be needed to bring his blood back to normal.

He was able to speak in a stronger voice Sunday, open his eyes more often and, for the first time in nearly a week, drink from a glass.

New Jordan Minister

Amman, Jordan (UPI) — King Hussein of Jordan appointed Hasan Alkateb royal court minister. The portfolio was previously held by the late Prime Minister Hazzai Majali, who was assassinated in a bomb explosion in Amman Aug. 28. Alkateb has been governor of the Jordan sector of Jerusalem.

58% Sinned

Theoretically, no one who voted for the Popular Democrats can receive full communion without a full confession and a pledge not to repeat the sin. That would take in 58% of Puerto Rico's voters.

Father Maisonet said the church's latest move in the fight against Munoz "is as far as we can go." He insisted the church is completely within its rights and said: "Puerto Rico is a country of people in sin."

One-Man Farmer

London (UPI) — Radio Moscow said a Stalingrad plant has begun production of a radio-controlled tractor which enables one man to run 2 or 3 tractors simultaneously. The broadcast gave no details.

Washington (UPI) — A congressional group said Saturday that "important and urgent" decisions relating to radiation protection face the country.

It said the need for such decisions is intensified by development work on nuclear space rockets and satellite power plants, atomic ramjet missiles, and atom-powered aircraft.

At the moment, the group said, even the experts are confused as to where responsibility lies for protecting the public against radiation hazards. They also disagree on the meaning of "radiation protection criteria and standards."

The observations were made by the special radiation subcommittee of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee in a report on is whether the president, with the council's advice, shall exercise direct responsibility for setting protection standards or whether individual agencies shall make their own rules.

In recommending a stronger role for the Federal Radiation Council, Holifield said steps should "be taken to assure that federal activities in this field do not interfere with the continued operation of the NCRP."

Program Stressed At Family Service Dedication

"The important thing is not the brick and mortar used in the construction of this building, but the program which is to be carried on within it."

This was the statement of Willis Johnson of the Lincoln Community Chest, speaking at the dedication ceremony Sunday of the Family Service Association's new office building at 1133 H St.

Mayor Speaks

Mayor Bartlett Boyles also was present at the ceremony, issuing his congratulations to the organization.

A charitable enterprise is not even, at its best, a function of government, of the courts, or government-at-large, but a function of individual people at large within a community.

"The most important work done by this organization is not just the expenditure of your funds, nor the aid to people in distress and difficulty. It is the fact that they do furnish guidance and counsel to these troubled people, not only reaching some of the symptoms of the difficulty, but in many cases solving the entire problem."

The dedication message was given by Frank Hallgren, assistant dean of men at the University of Nebraska and president of the FSA Board of Directors.

"Throughout the over 70 years of service which the Family Service Association has given to Lincoln, it has always upheld one basic idea — that a strong family unit does mean that we have a strong community," said Hallgren. He continued:

"In addition to just dedicating a building, we think in terms of rededicating ourselves to the community, to have an expanding social service for an expanding community."

Also present at the festive occasion was Miss Harriet L. King, field representative for the Family Service Association of America, who congratulated the group on behalf of the national organization.

The Rev. W. N. Smithers offered the invocation at the ceremony and Chairman of the Dedication Committee Frank White presided over the program and the open house which followed.

U.S. May Ask Germany For $1.5 Billion In Aid

Bonn, Germany (UPI) — The United States will ask West Germany to put up nearly $1.5 billion in foreign aid and in contributions to West European defense, usually reliable sources said.

This tended to confirm a hint by President Eisenhower that a reported West German offer of between $852 million and $909 million would not be sufficient to stem the drain on the U.S. dollar and gold reserves.

Mac, Fanfani To Discuss Effect Of Kennedy Win

London (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flies to Rome Monday to talk with Italian leaders about expected changes in the Western alliance after President-elect John F. Kennedy takes over the White House.

U.S. officials would not comment on the report.

The sources said the bulk of the money would go to foreign aid, but no exact percentage was given.

Anderson and Dillon arrived here from Washington at the head of a 24-man team of experts. They met with officials of the U.S. Embassy at the residence of Ambassador Walter Dowling.

British diplomatic sources said Macmillan expects to sound out Fanfani on Italy's attitude toward proposals for greater unity in the defense of Western Europe, through closer integration of national forces and cost-sharing.

The Italian premier talked recently with French President Charles De Gaulle, whose basically nationalistic approach to NATO defense planning has caused concern among British and American strategists.

Under President Kennedy, it is anticipated the NATO structure will be enlarged to include greater political participation of member countries and means of coordinating provision of aid to developing nations.

Zellerbach Quits Italy Envoy Post

Augusta, Ga. (UPI) — President Eisenhower accepted the resignation of James D. Zellerbach, San Francisco industrialist, as Ambassador to Italy.

In a letter made public by the vacation White House, Eisenhower lauded Zellerbach for his record during the nearly 4 years he headed the U.S. Embassy in Rome.

"You have served your country with a high sense of dedication and purpose, of which you should be justly proud," the President said.

Zellerbach submitted his resignation Oct. 17 asking Eisenhower to accept it at a future date that suited him. He told the President "my personal affairs have necessarily suffered from neglect" during his tour as Ambassador and that he wanted to return to private life.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he doubted that the President would name a successor to Zellerbach during his remaining two months in the White House.

In bright sunshine, Eisenhower attended services at Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church. He heard Dr. Charles H. H. Gibbons, minister of the Red Brick Church, pray for him and "all those around and about him in places of authority."

As the President bowed his head in the 6th pew, Dr. Gibbons thanked God for the dedicated leadership that has helped the nation become one of the strongest in the world.

Macmillan plans to confer with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani and will also call on Pope John XXIII. He will be first British prime minister to have an audience with the Pontiff since before World War II.

British diplomatic sources said Macmillan expects to sound out Fanfani on Italy's attitude toward proposals for greater unity in the defense of Western Europe, through closer integration of national forces and cost-sharing.

The Italian premier talked recently with French President Charles De Gaulle, whose basically nationalistic approach to NATO defense planning has caused concern among British and American strategists.

The balloon was launched by Raven Industries, Inc., of Sioux Falls in cooperation with the University of Chicago and Enrico Fermi Institute.

The telemeter system is supplying scientists with some of the information they seek about effects of the recent sunspot flareups, but other data will be lost unless the balloon's gondola is salvaged.

A mechanism has been timed to release the gondola by parachute Monday.

Raven officials expressed hope that Air Force planes would keep track of the balloon while it is over the Atlantic.

There have been occasional cases of balloons floating as far as Europe, researchers said.

Comes now the season of marriage and divorce: "She popped the question to me, man," said Sammy Davis Jr. as he armed-and-armed it out of the wedding with Mai Britt.

"I don't wish to discuss my personal affairs," quoth Marilyn Monroe as she stiff-armed Arthur Miller.

These are interesting statements. And when I wore my hat turned up in front with a press card in the band, I pried into a good many such human relations.

In the matter of marriage, it does not matter who pops the question, man. It is a matter of geography.

In marriage, it is wise to avoid it in Florida, California, Arizona or New Mexico.

In these States, divorce is high. About one in every two orange blossom starters never get around the track.

The best States (7 to 1 or better) are Maine, North and South Dakota, the District of Columbia and Vermont.

Wisconsin is good, but Wyoming is bad.

Watch your location and live happily ever after.

If you cannot live happily ever after, the courts are getting more agreeable all the time about the ground rules.

In Los Angeles, Mrs. Garfield Earthman testified that Garfield kept the windows open at night. She liked the windows closed. Granted.

In London, Hildegard McCarthy told her husband Mike not to eat fruit pie with his fingers.

Mike thereupon picked up the whole fruit pie and shoved it in her mouth.

Hildegard was speechless.

Granted.

Naturally, there are certain social steps in these matters. And when I was shoveling coals upon the fire for the dailies, the most admirable cases were handled by a barrister named "Jake the Master" Ehrlich.

It was Mr. Ehrlich's custom to dress for the part at the parting of the ways.

Dove gray was his favorite—it stood out well in the photographs as the lady in black fainted in his arms.

"How did your spouse cause your anguish and/or mental suffering?"

"He beat me like a Chinese gong," said the lady.

"He struck you?" said the Master. And the points of his handkerchief quivered in his breast pocket.

"He left the cap off the toothpaste," said the lady. He took the bookmark out of 'Peyton Place' and I never Over 250 foreign students at the University of Nebraska and at Nebraska Wesleyan received invitations from Lincoln families to attend church and have dinner in their homes Sunday.

The project, sponsored by the United Church Women in Lincoln, was arranged in conjunction with the observance of International Friendship Sunday. Lists of these students were obtained from the two universities, and the churches around Lincoln each took a certain number to be contacted by members of their congregations.

"We assigned churches lists according to the number they wanted," said Mrs. George Ramsey, chairman of the project. "From then on it was a matter of personal contact."

Most of the churches took about a dozen foreign students apiece, according to Mrs. Ramsey, but a few did take more, such as the Havelock Christian Church, which invited 22 students into the homes of members of its congregation.

"Well,
I'll be a
monkey's uncle!"

I've got to admit it... curling does make Butternut better!"

That's all it takes, ma'am... just one taste! How does a simple curl do it? Well, you see, the new TENDR-KURL® method adds an extra step in the kneading process. It actually curls the dough, stretches the bread-cells to make the bread more tender. Presses out tiny air bubbles, so the bread stays fresher. It's baked longer, too... and that improves the flavor. You say new Butternut's the kind of bread you'd bake yourself... if you had time? Well, thank you! What more could we say?

Dear Abby-
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: On October 5th I ran the following letter:

DEAR ABBY: I am a 55-year-old spinster, and I want to buy me a husband . . . I am not bad looking. I can give him a car of his own . . . a good allowance to do as he pleases and no questions asked. I want a man between 20 and 40 who doesn't drink. I own 4 houses and a drive-in and have money in the bank . . . There is nothing wrong with me. He doesn't have to work . . . and he can sleep as late as he pleases. I am sick of playing hard to get. I believe in putting all my cards on the table and I want a man who will do the same.

JUST PLAIN LONESOME
Here are some of the replies:

DEAR ABBY: I am 20, a pre-med student, and crave the company of a mature woman. Love is only a state of mind. I know I could truly love a woman with her qualifications.

DEAR ABBY: My client is interested in the party who signed herself "Just Plain Lonesome." He is a mature, responsible, 33-year-old citizen who will furnish character references. Please contact this office.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "JUST PLAIN LONESOME" she can have my husband. He's in his late 30's, likes to sleep, doesn't care for work, would appreciate a car and an allowance, would like to come and go as he pleases with no questions asked, and prefers women who are "not hard to get."

It's a push button age we're living in, but no push button is more popular than the one on the paint spray can. What exciting transformations can be wrought when the paint comes spraying out!

Picture frames, headboards, old tables, mirror frames, discarded chairs . . . all can be changed from drab ugly ducklings into things that make a room fairly sizzle with their gay Spanish pinks, Chinese yellows, Sicilian greens, or shiny Espresso blacks.

Old dining room chairs sprayed a tantalizing orange and covered with lemon-peach yellow seat look invitingly modern and gay, and call for a rejuvenation of the rest of the room.

You'll be surprised at what this color spray can do for your spirits. Nobody would think of applying a drab old brown or a stone wall gray. Somehow, when you push that button you want to see something alive and cheerful coming out. And even people who wouldn't think of "brushing" on a peacock blue, seem to feel "the brighter, the better" when they get their hand on the throttle of that spray can.

Look around YOUR house and experiment on one piece. It's fun!

R. P. asks:
"I would like to ask your advice on my apartment. I have a new sofa, covered with pink-mauve upholstery, and as I have always been fond of lilac, purple or mauve tones I know that it is a hard color to combine, and I would appreciate your advice.

Is a very light mauve background curtain with figures too much? Also what type of rug would blend with the lilac, mauve purple idea. I have an old sofa covered in dark green upholstery, and was wondering if I could still use it in the same room with the lilac, pink decor?"

Dear R. P.: Your curtain choice sounds all right to me, with your pink-mauve sofa. A rich dark green rug would team up well with your old dark green sofa and furnish that lush "green leaf" effect to your "lilac" decor. Spot white accessories around for a crisp snow-in-lilac-time effect.

Mrs. H.M. F. asks:
"Please tell me what you would do with bamboo draw draperies that have turned dark from the sun? Spray them to match walls, what color?"

Dear Mrs. H.M.F.: You could either spray them a clear, fresh white, or have them match your walls . . . a lovely leaf-green.

The annual Fall Jamboree of the Lincoln Council of FOLK and SQUARE DANCE CLUBS will be held next Wednesday evening at the College of Agriculture Activities Bldg., with members of the Faculty Squares serving as hosts and hostesses.

NU Finale Robs Wind

... 'Nothing Surprising'—Bud

By Don Bryant

Bud Wilkinson, Sooner football coach whose team absorbed the almost unbelievable 17-14 loss to the Cornhuskers, echoed the fans' thoughts long after the thrilling contest when he said:

"Nebraska is a fine team — you have to be good to beat Texas and Army. There's nothing surprising to me about Nebraska playing good football because it's a good football team. The only surprising thing — the thing that is awfully hard to understand — is that Nebraska can play so poorly at times."

Wilkinson, who was every bit as gracious in defeat as he has been in past years when his Sooners powered the Cornhuskers, wasn't being facetious, merely repeating a statement that was made numerous times in the wake of the sensational Cornhusker performance.

OU Not Good

"We just are not a good, sound football team this year," Bud said. "I wish we would be up and down for a change, but we seem to be rather consistent."

While this may sound like a blame-the-players attitude, Wilkinson quickly clarified the point by saying:

"We lack the real good backs that are so vital to success, but that's not the entire answer. I honestly feel that I haven't done the coaching job that I should have done because our boys have not been inspired to give the extra effort that is so important to winning football."

There certainly was no question here Saturday but what the Cornhuskers came up with the extra effort.

Take Bow

Out-classed completely in the first half, the Huskers — Coach Bill Jennings and his assistants are entitled to a deep bow, too — fought back in tremendous fashion to overcome a 14-0 deficit and register their second successive win over the Sooners.

These were some of the highlights:

National Crown, Bowls Undecided

. . . Huskies, Arkansas, Maybe Penn State In Bowls

The Associated Press

After 10 weeks of struggle, the national championship of major colleges, college football still is up for grabs now that the No. 1 team in the Associated Press rankings has been thumped — and thumped good — for the 3rd consecutive Saturday.

Missouri went the way of first Iowa and then Minnesota this last weekend. Three days after Missouri was named No. 1 in the weekly AP poll — which determines the national champion in the final balloting — Kansas made good on the 3rd try in a "big game" and tagged the Tigers 23-7.

That upset not only left the No. 1 spot wide-open, with Iowa (8-1), Mississippi (8-0-1), Minnesota (8-1) Navy (8-1) and Missouri (9-1) all possible choices, but coupled with Utah State's surprise 6-0 defeat by Utah it left New Mexico State (9-0) and Yale (9-0) and the only unbeaten-united teams in major college play.

Mississippi and Navy, both idle this past weekend, wrap up their regular seasons in classic clashes this Saturday — Ole Miss against Mississippi State and the Middies against Army.

Kansas' longed-for victory gave the bowl-banned Jaws-hawks a 7-2-1 final record and their first undisputed Big 8 Conference title in 30 years.

Kansas had lost two other big games against national powers — falling 14-7 to Syracuse, then ranked No. 2 and 21-7 to Iowa, then No. 1 — and was tied by fallen giant Oklahoma 13-13.

But while the upset snatched away a cinch national title, the conference crown and Missouri's first perfect season, all was not misery for Mizzou. Athletic director Don Faurot accepted an invitation for a quick return to the Orange Bowl at Miami, where the Tigers lost 14-0 to Georgia last New Year's Day.

Two other bowl teams have been decided.

Arkansas is headed for the Cotton Bowl at Dallas as host team after clinching no worse than a tie for the Southwest Conference crown with a 34-6 job on Texas Tech. Rice could share the title by beating Baylor this week. The Owls are out of the Cotton Bowl, since they were beaten by Arkansas, but are on the prospect lists for other post-season games.

Once-beaten Washington, the Big 5 champ, was picked for a return as the Rose Bowl host after a poll of conference members. The Huskies got past Washington 8-7 on Paul Hivner's 2-point conversion pass to Don McKeta in the 4th period for a final 9-1 record.

Penn State (6-3), which squashed Pitt's bowl hopes 14-3, received an invitation Sunday night from the Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia. There was no immediate word of acceptance of the bid.

Penn State won the first Liberty Bowl last year, 7-0 over Alabama. A Western representative is expected to be picked from among Oregon, Rice, Baylor, Texas and Florida.

The other bowl berths are as undecided as the national championship. The Rose Bowl committee pointedly is reserving judgment until after the Army-Navy game. That might set up a "natural" re-match between Navy and Washington, since the Huskie's lone defeat was a 15-14 decision by the Middies.

Iowa and Minnesota also are Rose Bowl possibles. Iowa, beaten only by Minnesota (27-10), wrapped up its regular season with a 28-0 victory over Notre Dame as a farewell gesture to Coach Forest Evanshevich.

Backfield coach Jimmy Burns takes over on a 3-year-contract next season, when Evey makes his long-ago announced move to athletic director after a 9-year, 52-27-4 record at Iowa.

Minnesota, beaten only by Purdue (23-14), gained a share of its first Big 10 title since 1941 by crushing Wisconsin 26-7.

The Orange Bowl group handed a jolt by Duke's 7-6 upset by North Carolina, meets this week to pick an opponent for Missouri. Duke claimed the Atlantic Coast title, however, when South Carolina tied NC State 8-8.

Mississippi could lock up the host position in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans as Southeastern Conference champ will a victory over Mississippi State. But Florida, reserving a decision on Gator Bowl invitation, could move into the Sugar Bowl if Mississippi falters.

Auburn, whose 57-21 rout of Florida State was marred by injury to fullback Ed Dyas, also could win the SEC title, but like Kansas is on NCAA probation and banned from bowl play.

In the other major conference races settled Saturday, Utah State had to do with a title tie with Wyoming, which whipped Brigham Young 30-6, in the Skyline; and Yale wrapped up the Ivy League and Big 3 titles by swamping Harvard 39-6 as the Elis put away their first perfect season since 1923.

The other unbeaten, New Mexico State, stayed that way with a 40-3 gambol over Hardin-Simmons. The Aggies could clinch the Border Conference title by beating Texas Western in their final game Saturday.

Walt Michaels (34) and Bob Gain (79) of the Cleveland Browns try to grab an elusive fumble by Pittsburgh's John Henry Johnson. But Steelers wound up with the ball.

Steelers Beat Clock, Edge Cleveland In 14-10 Thriller

Pittsburgh (P)—The Pittsburgh Steelers beat the clock and the Cleveland Browns past 14-10 Sunday in a hair-raising National Football League game.

It was a battle to the finish with the Browns knocking on the Steelers' doorstep until the final gun. The game ended with Cleveland on Pittsburgh's 9.

Milt Plum, the Browns quarterback, had a chance to pull it out on the last play of the game, but missed on a pass to end Leon Clarke in the end zone.

Quarterback Bobby Layne engineered a 75-yard touchdown drive in the final minutes to pull out the victory for the Steelers.

Trailing 10-7 and needing two yards for a first down and 4 yards for a touchdown,

Brodie, Davis Sparkle As 49ers Shame Dallas, 26-14

Dallas, Tex. (P)—The San Francisco 49ers cashed in on Dallas mistakes, John Brodie's passing and Tommy Davis' toe for a 26-14 victory in the National Football League Sunday.

It was Dallas' 9th straight loss and means the Cowboys won't be able to win a game at home this year since they will be on the road from now on.

There weren't many present to see Dallas' shame further added to only 10,000 huddling under the eaves in a light rain.

San Francisco won its 4th in 8 starts.

Dallas led for a half and in the 4th period went back ahead again, but the 49ers, with Brodie in the saddle, roared 80 yards for a touchdown, made by C. R. Roberts on a 20-yard blast on the draw.

The 49ers scored twice after that but there was never much doubt about San Francisco winning the game after that go-ahead touchdown.

Davis kicked 4 field goals of 18, 28, 16 and 2 yards and J. D. Smith ran 14 yards for the other San Francisco touchdown.

Dallas took the lead in the second period with a touchdown scored on a 16-yard pass from Don Meredith to Jim Doran. The other Dallas touchdown was on a sensational play. Eddie LeBaron flung a pass to Frank Clarke that ate up 76 yards.

Doubts Of SEATO's Ability Crop Up Despite Tough Talk

Bangkok, Thailand (P) — Doubts about the ability of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) to cope with communist advances are cropping up despite tough talk by the alliance's military advisers here last week.

The military men are reported planning a quick overhaul of SEATO's defense planning, but this may not be sufficient to cope with the Reds on the political level where they now are making headway in Laos.

Anxiety in this SEATO headquarters city was heightened by reports that the neutralist government of Laos plans a coalition with the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and will seek aid from Communist China and North Viet Nam.

The general feeling here is that political action is needed at SEATO's highest level. That would be: the council of foreign ministers of the member countries — the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Phillipines and Thailand. But the council is not scheduled to meet until March.

"By that time it may be too late," one Westerner said.

SEATO's military advisers ended a 3-day conference Friday with a pledge to maintain constant vigilance and take "suitable and timely action should the occasion demand."

Delegates' speeches and the final communiqué went further than most observers had expected by pinpointing Laos and terrorist-plagued South Viet Nam as the prime sources of SEATO concern.

This is more than SEATO had done since the Aug. 9 coup in Viet Nam touched off the present Laotian crisis and paved the way for a new communist campaign to gain power deep in the heart of the SEATO area.

SEATO's hands seem tied by its charter.

When the anti-Communist alliance was formed in 1954 under the guidance of John Foster Dulles, then U.S. secretary of state, the idea was to surround the power vacuum left in Indochina by the withdrawal of the French after a long and costly war.

The newly independent Indochinese states—Laos, Cambodia and South Viet Nam—were declared out of bounds to military alliances by the agreements ending the war. But a special clause in the SEATO charter extended the protection of the alliance to the 3 states in the event of outside aggression or internal disorder that might endanger the treaty area.

Here's The Hitch

The hitch is that SEATO protection can only come "at the invitation or with the consent of the government concerned."

And it is highly unlikely that Laos' neutralist premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma, will ever ask for SEATO intervention.

Thailand, the closest SEA-TO country to the danger zone, has been openly upset by SEATO's inaction. It shares the long northeastern border with Laos and would be particularly vulnerable if that neighboring kingdom went communist.

The military advisers' conference had opened with warnings from Thailand and the Philippines that SEATO faces a virtual test of strength in Laos and South Viet Nam.

Although not officially announced, conference sources said the advisers agreed to update SEATO's defense planning along lines proposed by Thailand.

The Thais insist on a change because they contend communist influence in Laos outdates the current status of Laos as a buffer between non-communist southeast Asia and the communist bloc to the north.

SIR WINSTON ON THE MEND FROM INJURY

London (P) — Sir Winston Churchill Sunday night was reported on the mend from the effects of a fall at his London home which broke a small bone in his back.

A medical bulletin on the 83-year-old statesman said Sir Winston had a better night and continues to improve.

Lady Churchill left their town house earlier smiling and gay. She also told newsmen Sir Winston was "very much better" and eating well.

The former prime minister has been confined to bed since his fall last Tuesday. Medical authorities have said there is no reason why the slight spinal fracture cannot knit, but there has inevitably been concern that bronchial congestion might develop while he was bedfast.

To counteract the danger, Sir Winston has received daily visits from a physiotherapist.

Goose May Be 'Gone' Goose

Washington (P) — A defiant grey goose that staked claim to the Reflecting Pool at the base of the Lincoln Memorial a month ago and eluded all official attempts to capture him disappeared.

The big Canadian goose, who had taken over the rectangle of water as if he owned it, was last seen by park police Pvt. Joseph L'Etoile, who was the first to spot the bird last Oct. 21.

"I hope nobody decided to have aquatic turkey for Thanksgiving," L'Etoile said.

Haeck Dies

Rome (P) — The Rev. Ermano Haeck, 60, president of the International Federation of Catholic News Agencies, died of a heart attack. He was a native of Belgium.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY

Customer Good Will Bucks Machine Age

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

King Canute's effort to sweep back the ocean's waves was hardly as futile as contemporary gestures against technological change.

The mature approach is to adjust to a shifting environment.

But some thoughtless folk in management apparently look at only half the problem.

Obviously, we are now living increasingly in an IBM civilization, in which the machine tends to intrude in human relations.

For example, a busy traveler for 28 years invariably stayed at the same plush hotel in Chicago. There were advantages to the patron in showing such customer loyalty. In the first place, it was easier for his Midwest contracts to know how to reach him. Secondly, the traveler had developed financial and moral credit, and got the special consideration which is reserved for old friends.

Then came a series of ownership changes, including acquisition by chains, which are, in the nature of things, addicted to computing machines. The changed atmosphere was dramatized when the guest, on checking out, asked the cashier to let him sign his bill, in accordance with his time-honored custom. Instead, the cashier, reflecting the new policy, asked the patron to show his credit card.

The old established relationship had been broken. The patron, who used to be treated as a personality, had become downgraded as a mere number.

Least you think, gentle reader, that this is a minor matter in this cold war world worried about atomic fallout, it is something that has concerned abler and more sensitive personalities in management. Thus, one major hotel chain has mitigated the blow of machine civilization on human relations by providing some guests with specially marked cards which indicate that they are old and trusted customers.

Other hotels, in their customer files, have notations which indicate which regular patrons have demonstrated through the years their credit worthiness.

This saves the embarrassment of treating old patrons as though they were untested Johnny-Come-Latelies.

This is different from bringing out the red carpet only for VIPs (Very Important Persons) and treating those who are on the house more considerately than the regular patrons who pay their way.

When this writer was trustee of an estate which owned a nationally famous restaurant in the nation's capital, he insisted that the management regard each customer as a VIP and not downgrade those who didn't happen to be celebrities. My view was that at the same price the tourist should get for the same money as big and tender a steak as a senator.

Compressed Air Could Loft 'Balloon' Planes

Washington (AP) — Naval scientists have come up with a new idea for inflatable airplanes using compressed air for almost vertical takeoff and descent.

The Navy has not yet approved the idea, but a pamphlet on the project — an expansion of the so-called Wagmigh principle for an inflatable airplane — has been distributed throughout the aircraft industry.

The Wagmigh principle, in circulation for more than a year, has not won Navy approval but the new concept calls for application of the principle to vertical takeoffs and landings (VTOL) or short takeoffs and landings (STOL).

The standard VTOL-STOL technique requires powerful engines to provide lift — either through jet streams or propeller blasts — to take the craft directly off the ground or to land it gently. This power is in addition to that required for forward flight.

The new Navy technique would store compressed air from the regular engines in the inflatable wings of a rubberized aircraft beyond the pressure needed to keep the wings inflated in flight. A Navy study said that

Guard Chiefs Aid National Policy Groups

Both the adjutant general of the Nebraska National Guard and the chief of staff of the Nebraska Air National Guard are now members of national general staff committees on Guard policy.

Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch, adjutant general, has received a 3-year appointment as a member of the Army National Guard Policy Committee.

Gen. Welch currently represents the Fifth Army Area as an alternate committee member.

Brig. Gen. John M. Campbell, Air Guard chief of staff, is serving as a member of the Air National Guard Policy Committee.

Glen Campbell was originally appointed to the committee as an alternate in 1959.

The general staff committees consider all policies and regulations affecting the organization or distribution of the National Guard, including training.

Recommendations concerning such policies are submitted to the Department of the Army and Department of the Air Force.

Gov. Dwight Burney, commenting on the appointments, said: "Nebraska now has a strong voice in the nation's military policy, both army and air."

Fire Sentinel Safeguards Children's Sleep At Whitehall

Safe Crackers Labor Long In $50,000 Florida Heist

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Safe crackers worked at least 5 hours to steal possibly $50,000 from a school teachers' credit union early Sunday. Police called it a fantastic burglary.

While a night watchman slept in a room above, the burglars smashed open two big safes of the Dade County Teachers Credit Union.

The thieves knocked down a warehouse wall, rolled out two other safes on dollies and carted them off by truck. The money and jewelry inside the safes belonged to nearly 6,000 teachers.

"The only word to describe this is 'fantastic,'" said Police Officer H. H. Harrison. "They had to be in there at least 5 hours."

Using an electric drill apparently hooked up by an extension cord, the burglars drilled through a roof door. Then, police believe, one thief crawled inside and unlocked a side door.

Directly above was the night watchman, Herman L. Gauger, 50. Although an employee of the school department for 4 years, it was his first night on the job as watchman.

"I didn't hear a thing," he told police.

Lt. R. K. Adair called it Miami's biggest safe job in 15 years and said "It's unbelievable that they smashed and hammered away at those safes without disturbing anyone."

He said two alarm systems were connected to the night watchman's room—one a light and one a buzzer. He said the

Expert Urges Hunter-Farm Cooperation

Farmers and hunters assembling at the University of Nebraska Sunday were told they must create better relations between themselves if the state is to perpetuate the public hunting heritage.

Jack H. Berryman, wildlife expert at the University of Utah and authority on landowner-hunter relations, spoke at the two-day wildlife conference, which ended Sunday at the Nebraska Union.

"In plain and simple terms, a growing number of landowners feel that their constitutional rights as landowners are not being respected and that their role as producers of game is not fully realized," he said.

Berryman called for a "drastic change" in the public attitude. "Until there is recognition and respect not only for the property rights of the landowners, but also for their role in wildlife production, we can expect nothing but a worsening of the present situation," he added.

The wildlife expert called for some form of "landowner compensation," and while insisting that it not be confused with "paid hunting," said an approach that will protect and preserve the values of the land and of the wildlife must be found.

School Employees Propose Own Scholarship Plan

A proposal for the establishment of a $100 per year scholarship for sons, daughters, or legal wards of the members of the Lincoln Public Schools Employees Association who work for the Board of Education will be voted on by the association Dec. 10.

The scholarship will be offered to high school seniors who qualify by their scholarship and general character," explained Donald Rolofson, president of the association, "and will consist of $50 per semester for two semesters."

The proposal was formed and solidified at a meeting of the Association's board of trustees Saturday. If the proposal is accepted, according to Rolofson, the scholarship will go in effect next semester.

'Agreement' Reached On Ways To End Laos' Civil War

Vientiane, Laos (UPI) — Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma announced he has signed an agreement with the leader of the Pathet Lao on ways to end Laos' 6-year civil war. (This dispatch was delayed and cut by the censor in Vientiane. The Communist-led Pathet Lao, has been waging the civil war since the French got out of Indochina in 1954. Among the new policies announced earlier by Souvanna Phouma's government, apparently in response to Pathet Lao pressure, was establishing relations with the Communist China and its satellite, North Viet Nam.) Souvanna, a neutralist, reported the agreement with Prince Souvanna Vong, his half-brother and leader of the Pathet Lao, on his return from the Pathet Lao stronghold at Sam Neua, in northern Laos.

This apparently was a preliminary agreement in principle only. The premier declined to disclose details immediately. But he said Souvanna Vong agreed to support his government's neutralist policies and to the creation of a coalition regime including representatives of the Pathet Lao and Gen. Phoumi

Nosavan's right-wing rebel regime, based in the southern city of Savannakhet, "if that is possible."

This agreement, however, represents a two-way pact in what is actually a 3-way civil war. As such, it leaves the settlement of the war as remote as it was before Souvanna flew to Sam Neua Friday.

Formation of a coalition government also requires the approval of King Savang Vatthana, who is in the royal seat of Luang prabang now controlled by Phoumi's forces.

Suggesting that Phoumi's representatives be included in the projected coalition government appeared to be merely a political gambit on the premier's part. The Pathet Lao and Phoumi's regime have refused to have anything to do with each other.

Souvanna said no decision had been reached yet on the number of Pathet Lao representatives to be included in the government. He indicated negotiations are continuing.

During Souvanna's two-day absence in Sam Neua, the positions of both Phoumi's regime and the Pathet Lao have hardened to a seemingly irreconcilable point.

The Pathet Lao radio broadcast Sunday: "American imperialists and their lackeys — the Phoumi regime — are mounting an attack on the (Vientiane) administrative capital of Laos. Vientiane is our stronghold." The broadcast called on the population of Vientiane plus the military garrison to defend the city.
